

Review & Publication Process

1. A Submitted research paper is accepted for review and an acknowledgment about the receipt of the research paper is sent to the author.
2. Editor in chief performs the preliminary selection which results in either straight forward rejection or preliminary acceptance.
3. Upon rejection, the author(s) are notified about the same.
4. Upon preliminary acceptance, as per the reviewer's quota, the research paper is sent to two reviewers.
5. After the stipulated time frame set for the review process, the review results are received from the reviewers and a thanks letter is issued to them for the process.
6. As per the decision of the Editorial Board, the research paper is categorized as per the following:-
 - Resubmission of the research paper with major revision. The research paper is sent back to the author(s) with major suggestions to be implemented. After resubmission of the research paper by author(s) after implementing major suggestions, the process is initiated from Step no. 4.
 - Resubmission of research paper with partial revision. The research paper is send back to author(s) with minor suggestions to be implemented. After resubmission of research paper by author(s) after implementing minor suggestions the process is initiated from Step no. 4.
 - Rejection of research paper and notification to the author(s).
 - Acceptance of research paper.
7. The acceptance of the research paper is notified to the author(s).
8. After positive feedback from reviewer and acceptance approval by Editorial board, the Journal's style and format are checked and the research paper is sent to the author(s) for receiving it back in pdf and word format accompanied with signed Copyright form by the author(s).
9. The received paper is sent for publication in the journal.